NOTICE: Bringing Personal Medications into Thailand

Please be informed that the Royal Thai Embassy in Prague is not the competent authority responsible for determining, verifying or approving the importation of medicines into Thailand. The Embassy is therefore unable to confirm whether a particular medication is permitted to be brought into the Kingdom.

Travellers are responsible for ensuring that their medications comply with Thai laws and regulations and for obtaining any necessary permits prior to travelling.

For general guidance, please refer to the following information provided by the Thai Food and Drug Administration (Thai FDA).

1. General prescription medicines

For prescription medicines that are not classified as narcotic drugs or psychotropic substances under Thai law:

* Travellers may bring medicines into Thailand for personal use in quantities not exceeding 30 days of prescribed usage.

* Medicines must be kept in their original containers with proper labels.

* A medical prescription or letter from the prescribing doctor should accompany the medicines.

Please note that the above guidance applies to medicines carried by travellers for personal use and does not automatically apply to medicines sent to Thailand by post or courier.

2. Medicines containing narcotic drugs or psychotropic substances

Medicines containing narcotic drugs or psychotropic substances are subject to specific restrictions and additional requirements.

Travellers must check the classification of their medicines and obtain any required permits from the Thai FDA before travelling.

3. Further information and enquiries

For information regarding specific medications, applicable regulations, and permit requirements, please contact the relevant Thai authorities directly: Food and Drug Administration (Thai FDA)

* Drug Control Division: drug@fda.moph.go.th

* Narcotics Control Division: tnarcotics@fda.moph.go.th

Official website: https://permitfortraveler.fda.moph.go.th/

Travellers are strongly advised to provide the exact name of their medication, its active ingredients, dosage and intended quantity when contacting the Thai FDA, in order to obtain accurate guidance.

The Royal Thai Embassy in Prague cannot provide confirmation or approval regarding the admissibility of specific medicines into Thailand. All enquiries concerning the importation of medicines should be directed to the relevant Thai authorities.
